GETTYSBURG, Nov. 19—

President Eisenhower's Cabinet and other top aides will fly to Camp David in "Flying Banana" helicopters for meetings with him Monday and Tuesday.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President will meet with the National Security Council at 2:30 p. m. Monday and with the Cabinet at 9 a. m. Tuesday. It will be the first time the President has presided over the weekly meetings of these two groups since leaving Washington for Denver more than three months ago.

The meetings will be held at the Presidential retreat 20 miles south of here in the Catskill Mountains, first named Shangri-la by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and renamed Camp David by President Eisenhower. Hagerty said Camp David was chosen because there is no meeting place in Gettysburg which qualifies from the standpoint of size and security.

AF Helicopters

The Air Force has made available three 8-seat helicopters to fly the NSC party up Monday, Hagerty said. Weather permitting they will leave from the Pentagon Heliport at 1:30 p. m. and make the 60-mile trip to a little field at Camp David in about 45 minutes. Cabinet members not here for the Monday meeting can fly up on an 8 a. m. helicopter flight Tuesday, Hagerty said.

Those here both days will stay overnight at Camp David cottages which have been winterized and can sleep a total of about 20. Hagerty told reporters.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will fly into Washington from Florida Monday noon and catch a helicopter from Washington National Airport, Hagerty said.

Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, will fly to Gettysburg Monday noon and drive to Camp David with the President to discuss CIA matters, Hagerty said.

The NSC advises the President on integrating domestic foreign and military policies bearing on the Nation's security. It consists of the President, Vice President, Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and the director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, Arthur S. Flemming.

Kept Indoors

A two-inch snowfall last night and this morning will keep the President indoors at his farm all today, Hagerty said. But he had plenty of company.

W. Alton Jones, chairman of the board of Cities Service Corporation, arrived Friday night with his wife to join General Alfred M. Gruenther, NATO commander, as weekend house guests of the President. William E. Robinson, president of Coca Cola, arrived today to spend the night.

Hagerty released an exchange of messages between the President and India's Prime Minister Nehru on the occasion of Nehru's sixty-sixth birthday November 14.

Hagerty said the President also received a message of thanks from Mexico's President A. Ruiz Cortines for American help given to the Mexican City of Tampico, which was heavily damaged by a hurricane late last summer.
